Introduction

Grammar Games and Activities is the second book in a series of source book for teachers. It contains a collection of 120 activities for practising and revising grammar. They range from elementary to advanced activities, all of which contain material to be photocopied. It is hoped they will prove useful in general courses to give extra practice in grammar.

The choice of which grammatical items to include in the book is largely subjective, with the emphasis on those most frequently encountered – in particular asking and answering questions in various tenses. There are bound to be omissions, but it is hoped that there are enough basic ideas in this book to encourage and stimulate teachers to devise their own activities for any grammatical items that have been left out.

Most of the activities in this book involve the students working in pairs or groups. Apart from making the learning process more dynamic and enjoyable it may also help make a traditionally serious subject like grammar more “user friendly”.

The majority of the ideas in this book are based on ideas I first used while teaching in Scandinavia. There is always, however, the problem of knowing who came up with a particular idea first. Where I have consciously used someone else’s idea I have of course acknowledged this. In other cases where I have devised an activity which someone else feels he or she can lay prior claim to then I apologize and will gladly make the appropriate acknowledgement in future editions of this book.

The organisation of this book

The activities have not been grouped according to grammatical structures. Instead I decided to group them according to types of activities. Altogether there are eleven sections: Find someone activities, Bingo activities, Jigsaw reading activities, Asking and answering questions activities, Information-gap activities, Find the differences activities, Questionnaires and surveys, Giving and receiving instructions activities, Board and card games, etc., Teacher-led activities, and Miscellaneous activities. Part 1 of the book gives detailed teacher’s notes for each activity while Part 2 contains the various cards, handouts, etc. to be photocopied.

Where possible, the material to be photocopied has been arranged in such a way that it also serves as an instant key to the majority of the activities. For example, in the jigsaw reading activities the broken sentences are arranged on the page in the correct order. It is therefore important to remember to shuffle the cards prior to handing them out to the students. Where a key is not obvious from the layout, a separate key is included in the teacher’s notes.

Classroom organisation

Although class sizes vary considerably, the book assumes an average class size of 10–20 students. Where possible, the classroom should be physically rearranged to facilitate working in pairs or groups. However, should this not be possible, even the more traditional front-facing rows of desks can be easily adapted for pair work and group work. For pair work, students can either work with the person sitting next to them or the person in front of or behind them. For group work, two students can easily turn their chairs round to face two others behind them. Where you have an uneven number of students in the class, most pair work activities can be done by three people (if necessary, two students against one).

The role of the teacher

Apart from the activities in the section Teacher-led activities, the teacher's role is largely that of coordinator. He or she is mainly responsible for:

- preparing the material in sufficient quantities
- explaining clearly what is to be done
- “checking” answers at the end of an activity

Once an activity has started, students usually work independently of the teacher at their own pace. The teacher goes round the classroom listening and monitoring their progress and only interfering or helping if absolutely necessary.

Time limits

Although many teachers may disagree with me on this point, I strongly advise giving the class a time limit for most of the activities, and to stop them whether they have finished or not. Apart from the obvious difficulties of students finishing at different times, the checking process is often an integral and, from the learning point of view, important part of the activity. As such it is better that you check with the whole class rather than individual groups.

Storing the material

The material to be photocopied can be divided into two types: (a) handouts which the students write on, and (b) material which the students use but do not write on.

To save the teacher unnecessary work, therefore, it is a good idea that material that can be re-used is made as durable as possible. One way is to mount everything on thin card. (Many photocopiers nowadays allow the use of card.) These cards and handouts can then be stored in separate envelopes (clearly labelled on the outside) which can be handed back to the teacher at the end of the activity.

All of the activities presented in this book require preparation on the part of the teacher. It is hoped that all the extra effort will prove to be rewarding.

Part 1 Teacher's notes

Find someone activities

1 Find someone who...1

Intermediate/Advanced

This activity has been around for some time, but is still very useful for practising forming, asking and answering questions.

Grammar points

Asking questions (various tenses); Short Yes/No answers

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the cards on pages 29–30, so there is one for each student in the class.
- 2 Give out the cards and allow time for the students to work out which questions to ask.
- 3 Students now walk around the room trying to find answers to the five questions on their cards. To ensure that they talk to as many people as possible, tell them that they are only allowed to ask one question every time they talk to someone.
- 4 Students write down any answers to their questions, plus the name of the student who gave them the answer.
- 5 After a while, stop the activity, irrespective of whether everyone has found answers to all their questions.
- 6 As a quick follow-up, let each student read out one of the answers on his/her card. You might also take up any questions for which the students couldn't get answers.

2 Find someone who...2

Elementary

This is a variation of the above activity where, instead of the students getting individual cards, they all have a copy of the same handout.

Grammar points

Asking questions (Present Simple); Short Yes/No answers; longer answers to WH- questions

Method

- 1 Give each student a copy of the handout on page 31.
- 2 As Activity 1, though students can now be allowed to ask two to three questions every time they talk to someone. If they get a Yes-answer, they follow it up by asking for further details.

- 3 This time, as a follow-up, you could go through all the questions, each student answering a different one.

3 Find someone who...3

Intermediate/Advanced

Grammar points

Asking questions (Perfect Simple/Past Simple); Short Yes/No answers; longer answers to WH- questions

Method

As Activity 2. The handout is on page 32.

4 Is it true or false?

Intermediate

In this activity students have to find out whether certain statements about their group are true or false.

Grammar points

Asking questions (various tenses); Short Yes/No answers

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of up to 10 students. Give each student a copy of the handout on page 33. Allow them time to work out what sort of questions to ask to check whether the ten statements are true or false, e.g., Have you ever visited Rome? Were you born in June? or When were you born? etc.
- 2 Students now work as a group trying to find out whether the ten statements are true or not. To help them, ten boxes are included at the bottom of the page to write the names of any students who answer Yes to any question.
- 3 At the end of the activity, the group make a note on their handout of which statements are true or false.
- 4 Check orally with each group. You don't have to go through all ten statements. You can instead ask one group for any facts that were true and another for any facts that were false, and so on.

5 Find out likes and dislikes Intermediate

This is another variation, this time for groups of eight students.

Grammar points

Asking questions (Do you like...?); Short Yes/No answers

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of 8 students. Copy and cut out the cards on page 34 and give one to each student. Explain that each person likes one thing and dislikes something else. But they also have to find out about other people's likes and dislikes.
- 2 Students now work in their group, taking it in turn to ask and answer questions in an effort to find who likes and dislikes the two items on their cards.
- 3 Check orally. Each student can tell you one thing they found out.

6 Trivia search Intermediate/Advanced

This is a slightly more difficult version of Activity 5. This time, each person knows three items of trivia and has to find the answers to three others. This activity is for groups of six students.

Grammar points

Asking WH- questions (various tenses); Short Yes/No answers

Method

As activity 5. The handout is on page 35.

7 Group opinions Intermediate

This time students will use tag questions to find answers to their questions.

Grammar points

Tag questions (various); Short Yes/No answers: All of us, most of us, none of us, etc.

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of 5–8 students. Each student gets a copy of the handout on page 36. Explain that each person has to interview every member of the group to find out, for example, how many of the group don't trust politicians, prefer tea to coffee, etc. But this time, instead of asking a direct question, they have to ask a tag question each time, e.g. You don't trust politicians, do you? or You trust politicians, don't you? They record their answers by putting a cross (X) in the boxes numbered 1–8.
- 2 Students now interview each other and make a note of the answers on their handouts.
- 3 When they have finished, they add up the crosses next to each statement and from this work out how many of the group do the various things using the words at the bottom of the page, All of us..., Most of us..., Hardly any of us..., etc.

- 4 Check orally. One or two students from each group can tell you one or two things they found out.

Bingo activities

Although teachers may tire of bingo, students rarely do, and for sheer concentration there are few activities that can beat it. The activities described here are variations of bingo. For each activity there are ten different bingo cards. For larger classes, some students can work in pairs.

8 What's the time bingo Elementary

In this game the students have drawings of clocks showing various times

Grammar points

Telling the time (It's one o'clock, etc.)

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the ten bingo cards on page 40. Also make two copies of the teacher's board on page 37. Leave one copy as it is but cut the other copy into 20 squares.
- 2 Give the students a card each. Allow a few minutes for them to look through them before beginning.
- 3 Put the 20 squares in a hat, cup, etc. Draw them out one at a time. You can either say the time, e.g. It's five past two, It's half past eight, etc., or you can do it as a student-teacher dialogue, where different students ask you What's the time? when you draw a card. You answer, It's twenty to seven, etc. before placing the square on your "master board". If the students have a clock on their card showing that time, they cross it out.
- 4 Play proceeds until a student has crossed out every picture, in which case (s)he shouts Bingo!
- 5 Check by getting him/her to tell you the time on each picture (s)he has crossed out. (You can ask another student to monitor this, to avoid any cheating!)

9 Irregular verbs bingo Elementary/Intermediate

In this game, the students have the infinitive of various irregular verbs. The teacher's board contains the three forms of each verb (infinitive, past, past participle).

Grammar points*Irregular verbs (3 forms)Method

As Activity 8. The teacher explains that (s)he is going to call out the past tense of each verb. To check, the winning student can read out all three parts of each verb. The student cards are on page 41 and the teacher's board is on page 37.

10 Telephone number bingo Elementary

In this game, the students have to listen to various telephone numbers being read out.

Grammar points*Numbers (as used in telephone numbers)Method

As Activity 8. As in Activity 8 this could be done as a student-teacher dialogue, namely:

Student: What's your telephone number?

Teacher: (taking card from hat) It's 3-4-double 5-7-8. etc.

The student cards are on page 42 and the teacher's board is on page 38.

11 Prepositions bingo Intermediate

The bingo cards here are slightly different from normal: each one consists of five sentences with missing prepositions. As each preposition is called out the students write them in the gaps on their cards. At the end of the game the winning student reads out all five sentences.

Grammar points*Prepositions (general)Method

As Activity 8, though it is a good idea to let the students read through the sentences first to work out which prepositions to listen for. The student cards are on page 43 and the teacher's board is on page 38.

12 Conjunctions bingo Intermediate/Advanced

This is similar to Activity 11, but this time a conjunction rather than a preposition is missing from each sentence.

Grammar points*Conjunctions (although, as soon as, in case, etc.)Method

As in Activity 11, at the end of the game the winning student reads out all five sentences. The student cards are on page 44 and the teacher's board is on page 39.

Jigsaw reading activities

The activities in this section involve various forms of jigsaw reading, from simple broken sentences to the more complicated of putting together of complete stories. They are useful for testing, amongst other things, linking words.

13 Broken sentences 1 Elementary

In this activity students have to put together sentences which have been broken up into two halves.

Grammar points*Present simpleMethod

- 1 Copy, cut up and shuffle the broken sentences on page 45. Make enough sets for the class working in pairs or groups of three or four.
- 2 Give each group a set of cards and tell them they have to arrange them into 15 sentences.
- 3 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 Check by going round the class from group to group. Each group reads out one sentence. The teacher says whether it is right or wrong. If right, it can be removed from the table (or turned over). The group gets 1 point for each correct answer. If wrong, the group gets no points and, without giving the correct answer, the teacher moves on to the next group.
- 5 Continue until all the sentences have been correctly read out.

14 Broken sentences 2 *IntermediateGrammar pointsTag questionsMethod

As Activity 13. This time each broken sentence is a tag question. The sentences are on page 46.

15 Broken sentences 3 Intermediate

Grammar points

Past simple; Linking sentences using 'because'

Method

As Activity 13. This time the second part of each broken sentence begins with the conjunction 'because'. The twelve sentences are on page 47.

16 Broken sentences 4
Intermediate/Advanced

Grammar points

Linking sentences using various conjunctions

Method

As Activity 13. This time each broken sentence contains a conjunction, either at the beginning of the first part (Although, Provided..., etc.) or at the beginning of the second part (as soon as..., even though..., etc.). There are twenty sentences altogether arranged as A cards and B cards. The A cards are on page 48 and the B cards are on page 49.

17 Broken sentences 5
Intermediate/Advanced

Grammar points

Prepositions after adjectives

Method

As Activity 13. This time each broken sentence contains an adjective followed by a preposition. There are twenty-four sentences altogether. They are to be found on pages 50–51.

18 Broken sentences 6
Elementary/Intermediate

Grammar points

Past tenses; Prepositional phrases (in the country, for three years, etc.); Word order

Method

As Activity 13. This time the students have to put together eight sentences which have been broken up into three parts. The broken sentences are on page 52.

19 Sort out the sentences 1 Intermediate

Grammar points

Present simple; Past simple; Word order

Method

As Activity 13, except that this time the students write down their answers rather than manipulate cards. The handout is on page 53.

Key

She prefers dogs to cats – especially poodles.

My uncle works for the BBC as a producer.

We last saw our son in the summer.

They moved to Wales three years ago.

20 Sort out the sentences 2 Intermediate

Grammar points

Word order; Present simple; Perfect simple; Prepositional phrases

Method

As Activity 19. The handout is on page 53.

Key

There is too much violence on television.

Everyone over eighteen is allowed to vote.

My wife was trained to be a teacher in Cambridge.

In Britain people still drive on the left.

It isn't warm enough yet to go swimming.

21 Jigsaw reading 1 Intermediate

The next three activities consist of getting the students to sort out complete texts rather than single sentences.

Grammar points

Word order; Imperatives as used in instructions for a recipe

Method

- 1 Copy the handout on page 54 and give each pair a copy.
- 2 Explain what is to be done and set a time limit.
- 3 Check orally. For homework, the students could write similar step-by-step instructions for how to do other things, e.g. change a nappy, change a fuse, mend a puncture, etc.

Key

Fill a kettle full of cold water.

Let the water come to the boil, but do not let it go on boiling for any length of time.

Pour some of the water into a teapot to heat it thoroughly.

Pour the water away and put in the tea, one teaspoon per person and one for the pot.

Take the teapot to the kettle and pour the water onto the tea while it is still boiling.
Stir briskly, put the lid on the teapot and let it brew for several minutes.
You will now have a perfect cup of tea.

22 Jigsaw reading 2 Intermediate/Advanced

Grammar points

Linking sentences logically

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the parts of the two jokes on pages 55–56. Divide the class into groups of 3–5 students. Give each group a set of cut-up cards.
- 2 Explain that the groups have to sort out the cards so that they make two jokes. If they need extra help, you can say that there are 14 parts in joke 1 and 15 parts in joke 2.
- 3 Set a definite time limit and check orally. One student from one group can start with the first part of joke 1, then another student reads out the next part, and so on.

23 Jigsaw reading 3 Advanced

This activity is more difficult than the others and is meant to be done orally.

Grammar points

Linking sentences logically

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the parts of the story on page 57. Divide the class into groups of 5–8 students. Give each student one or more parts of the story. Tell them they are not allowed to let anyone else see their card(s).
- 2 Explain that they are allowed to read out what is on their card but they mustn't write anything down. The aim is to sort out the story orally in the correct order.
- 3 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 Check orally using the same method as in Activity 22.

Acknowledgement: I was first introduced to this type of activity by Mario Rinvoluceri on one of his many visits to Sweden.

Asking and answering questions activities

These activities are concerned with asking and answering questions in various forms, from simple Yes/No type questions to more complicated WH- ones.

Questions with short Yes/No answers

24 Yes/No questions 1 Elementary

This and the following two activities are simple guessing games for the whole class.

Grammar points

Asking questions (Does he/she...?); Short Yes/No answers + adverbs of frequency (Yes, always, No, never, etc.)

Method

- 1 Give everyone a copy of the handout on page 58.
- 2 The teacher can demonstrate first to show the class what they have to do. You think of a person in your family and ask, for example, What's my uncle's job?
- 3 The rest of the class try to guess by asking questions. You can only answer Yes/No (+ adverb) or I don't know/I'm not sure.
- 4 The game goes on until someone in the class guesses the job or when the class have got ten No-answers.
- 5 When a person guesses, he or she should say: Is your (uncle) a (doctor)?

25 Yes/No questions 2 Elementary

Grammar points

Asking questions (Do you...?, Is it...?); Short Yes/No answers (Yes, I do, Yes, sometimes, No, I don't, No, not usually.)

Method

As Activity 24. The handout is on page 59. This time at the beginning the student asks the class: What do I like doing in my free time? When a student guesses, (s)he asks: Do you like (swimming)?

26 Yes/No questions 3*ElementaryGrammar points

Asking questions (Is this country...?, Do they...?, Is there...?, Are there...?); Short Yes/No answers (Yes, it is, Yes, they do, Yes, there is/are, etc, No, it isn't, No, they don't, No, there isn't/aren't, etc.)

Method

As Activity 24. The handout is on page 60. This time at the beginning the student asks the class: Which country am I thinking of? When a student guesses, he or she asks: Are you thinking of (Greece)?

27 Yes/No questions 4*Elementary/Intermediate*

This activity is for pairs.

Grammar points

Asking questions (Do you...?); Short Yes/No answers (Yes, I do/No, I don't)

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the handouts for Student A and Student B on page 61.
- 2 Divide the class into pairs – A and B. Give each person the appropriate handout.
- 3 At first they work alone, They read through the sentences and fill in the answers by making guesses about their partner, for example, whether (s)he smokes, enjoys going to discos, etc.
- 4 When both are ready, they face each other and take it in turns to check if they have guessed correctly or not by asking and answering questions.
- 5 The partner with the highest number of correct guesses wins.

Role-plays and simulations

The following activities are much freer and make use of WH-questions.

28 Things we were going to do*Intermediate/Advanced*

In this simulation, students work in pairs and imagine that their partner is an old school friend.

Grammar points

Was/were going to...; Asking and answering questions (past

*tenses)Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the handouts for Student A and Student B on page 62.
- 2 Divide the class into pairs – A and B. Give each person the appropriate handout.
- 3 Explain what they have to do and allow time for preparation before they start.
- 4 When both are ready, they face each other and begin.
- 5 Set a definite time-limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 6 You can follow up by asking the students if they have ever made plans that either came true or didn't come true.

29 Asking and answering questions about photographs*Intermediate/Advanced*

In this simulation, students work in pairs and imagine that they are showing their partner some photographs they have taken.

Grammar points

Asking and answering questions (various tenses)

Method

As Activity 28. The handouts and photographs are on page 63. As a follow-up, you can ask the students to bring in 'real' photographs to talk about.

30 My first love*Intermediate/Advanced*

In this simulation, students work in pairs. One person shows the other a photograph of the first person (s)he fell in love with. His or her partner asks questions about this person.

Grammar points

Asking and answering questions (various tenses)

Method

As Activity 28. The handouts for Student A and Student B are on page 64.

Grammar points

Asking and answering questions (various tenses)

Method

As Activity 28. The handouts for Student A and Student B are on page 65.

32 Group role play*Intermediate*

This is a role-play for groups of eight students. It is similar to the Find someone... activities earlier in the book.

Grammar points

Asking questions (Did you...?); Yes/No answers

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the 8 role cards on pages 66–67.
- 2 Divide the class into groups of eight students. Each student is given a role card.
- 3 Explain that each person has some information on their card about themselves, but they also need to find out three things about others in the group.
- 4 Allow time for them to work out which questions to ask. Demonstrate with the whole class, if necessary.
- 5 When everyone is ready, the role-play can begin. They take it in turns to talk to different people in the group, trying to find out the three missing pieces of information.
- 6 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.

Other question and answer activities33 Getting to know you 1Elementary/Intermediate*

This and the next activity concentrate on asking questions of a more personal nature. Because of this, it is important to tell the group that they don't have to answer any questions they find too personal.

Grammar points

Asking questions in order to complete a form (various tenses, mainly WH-questions); Reported speech

Method

- 1 Divide the class into pairs and give each student a copy of the handout on page 68.
- 2 Students now take it in turns to ask questions and fill in the form.

- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 5 As a follow up, each person finds a new partner and tells him or her one or two things about the person (s)he interviewed.

34 Getting to know you 2*Intermediate/AdvancedGrammar points

Asking WH-questions (various tenses)

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the handouts for Student A and Student B on page 69.
- 2 Divide the class into pairs – A and B. Give each person the appropriate handout.
- 3 Explain what they have to do. Each person works on his/her own and writes down his/her answers on a separate piece of paper. Allow about 10–15 minutes for this.
- 4 Student A and Student B now turn over their handouts and from now on only use the piece of paper they have written their answers on. They are allowed to refer back to the handout if they can't remember what a particular date or name was but their partner must not be allowed to see the handout. They take it in turns to ask about the various names, dates, etc. Encourage them to ask follow-up questions so that their partner talks as much as possible.
- 5 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.

35 Ask the right question*Intermediate/Advanced*

This is an activity for groups of up to eight students.

Grammar points

Asking WH-questions (various tenses)

Method

- 1 Copy, cut up and shuffle the cards on page 70.
- 2 Divide the class into groups of up to 8 students. Give each group a set of cards. Place them face down on the table.
- 4 One student begins. (S)he picks up a card and tries to ask a question that will make someone answer with this word. The person who answers, keeps the card (and gains 1 point). The next student picks up a card, and so on.
- 5 Set a definite time limit. The student with the highest number of points at the end is the winner.

NOTE: A variation would be for the students to play in teams (as in Bridge). Player 1 from team A has 2 minutes to get his partner to answer correctly. If not, Team B can try and guess and thus gain the point

36 Keep talking

Advanced

This activity can either be done in groups or as a whole class activity. (Whole class activity described below.)

Grammar points

Asking WH-questions (various tenses)

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the 12 cards on page 71.
- 2 The teacher can demonstrate first by telling the class that (s)he's going to say something and that the class must try and find out as many further details as possible by asking questions. To help them, you could write up on the board the following question words:

Why? What? Where? When? Who? etc.

- 3 Take one of the cards (you can choose one which best suits you!) and say it to the class. Encourage them now to ask you as many questions as possible. Stop after about 3 minutes.
- 4 Ask for volunteers and continue in the same way with the remaining cards.
- 5 Alternatively, the students could work on their own in groups, taking it in turns to be the person who utters the opening statement. Each group must have a set of cards.

Information-gap activities

- 4 Explain what is to be done and set a time-limit.
- 5 Check orally. (You could draw a blank tree on the board and get the groups to fill it in for you.)

45 Half a crossword: Irregular verbs

Elementary/Intermediate

In this activity, students work in groups of 2-4. One group is called A and the other B. Each group has an incomplete crossword containing verbs in the past tense. By asking and answering questions, they complete their crosswords.

Grammar points

Irregular verbs (infinitive and past forms)

Method

- 1 Copy the crosswords on page 86 (Group A) and page 87 (Group B).
- 2 Divide the class into A and B groups. They sit facing each other. Give each group the appropriate crossword and allow them time to check that they know the infinitive forms of the verbs on their crossword. (Help if necessary.) On no account are they to show the other group their crossword.
- 3 They now take it in turns to ask for a verb that is missing from their crossword. They simply ask: What's 3 down? What's 14 across? etc. The other group answer, e.g. It's the past tense of bring, etc.
- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 6 They can now compare crosswords and check to see if they got any verbs wrong.

Find the differences activities

These are activities where the students, usually working in pairs, have to find a number of differences between two drawings, texts, etc.

- 3 They sit facing each other, making sure that their handout is hidden from their partner.
- 4 Explain what is to be done and allow time for preparation. Everyone then starts at the same time.

Questionnaires and surveys

The following activities are based on various questionnaires and surveys with the students working in pairs or groups.

51 Habits questionnaire

Elementary

In this activity the students interview each other to fill in a questionnaire about their partner's habits.

Grammar points

Asking set questions using Do you...?; Yes/No answers + frequency adverbs (Yes, always, No, not usually, etc.); Reported speech

Method

- 1 Copy the handout on page 96 (Student A) and the handout on page 97 (Student B).
- 2 Divide the class into pairs – A and B. Give each student a copy of the appropriate handout.
- 3 They sit facing each other, making sure that their handout is hidden from their partner.
- 4 Explain what is to be done and allow time for preparation. Everyone then starts at the same time.
- 5 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 6 They now find a new partner and talk to him/her about the person they interviewed.

52 Group interviews

Intermediate

In this activity the students work in groups of up to eight people.

Grammar points

Asking set questions using Do you...?; Yes/No answers + frequency adverbs (Yes, always, No, not usually, etc.); Making statements using the present simple, 3rd person, of the type Most people..., Almost everyone..., etc.

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of up to eight students. Give each student a copy of one of the eight handouts on pages 98–100. Explain what is to be done and allow a few minutes for preparation.
- 2 They now walk around the room interviewing six other people in their group and making a note of the answers they get.
- 3 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 As a follow-up they now write down five sentences based on the results they got, using the following pattern. (It can be written on the board).

Most people...

Almost everyone...

Two/Three people...

Only one person...

Hardly anyone...

No one...

53 How often do you do it?

Intermediate

In this activity the students work in groups of six to eight people.

Grammar points

Asking set questions using How often do you...?; Answering using adverbs of frequency; Making statements using the present simple plus adverbs of frequency

Method

- 1 Copy the handout on the top of page 101. You will need a copy for everyone in the class. Also copy, cut out and shuffle the 'frequency' cards at the bottom of page 101 and the 'activity' cards on page 102. Keep them separate as they will be used for different activities. You should have enough sets for every group.
- 2 Divide the class into groups of 6–8 students. For variation 1 of this activity, give each student a copy of the main handout and one set of activity cards per group. These are placed face down on the table in the middle of the group.
- 3 Students take it in turns to pick up a card then ask someone how often they do this particular activity. The student answers with an appropriate adverb of frequency. The activity continues with the next person in the group.
- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 5 In variation 2, each group is given a set of 'frequency' cards. Again they are placed face down on the table. This time instead of asking questions, the student makes a statement using the particular frequency adverb, e.g.

I sometimes go out in the evenings.

54 Likes and dislikes questionnaire

Elementary/Intermediate

In this activity the students work alone first, then in pairs.

Grammar points

Making statements about likes and dislikes, using the verbs love, really like, like, quite like, don't really like, don't like and hate; Agreeing or disagreeing, using so do I, neither do I

Method

- 1 Give each student a copy of the handout on page 103.
- 2 Working alone, they fill in the questionnaire.
- 3 When they have finished, they find a partner and have conversations based on the example on the handout.
- 4 As a follow-up, encourage a general class discussion with the students suggesting other things they like or dislike.

55 Asking about likes and dislikes

Intermediate

This is a slightly more difficult version of the previous activity for pairs.

Grammar points

Asking questions about likes and dislikes; Answering using Yes/No phrases (Yes, very much, No, not at all, etc.); Making statements about a person's likes and dislikes; Reported speech

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the handouts for Student A and Student B on page 104.
- 2 Divide the class into pairs – A and B. Give each student a copy of the appropriate handout.
- 3 They sit facing each other, making sure that their handout is hidden from their partner.
- 4 Explain what is to be done and allow time for preparation. Everyone then starts at the same time.
- 5 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 6 They now find a new partner and talk to him/her about the person they interviewed using the pattern on their handout.

56 What sort of a person are you?

Intermediate/Advanced

This is an activity for groups of six.

Grammar points

Making personal statements using the present simple + adverbs of frequency; Reported speech (follow-up activity)

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of six and give each student a different one of the handouts on pages 105–107.
- 2 Working alone, they fill in column 1 about themselves. As this is personal information tell them they don't have to answer any questions that are too personal.
- 3 They now take it in turns to interview the other five people in the group, writing down their answers in columns 2–5.
- 5 As a follow-up you could ask some students to make some generalisations based on their findings, e.g. Everyone I spoke to said they were honest, No one said they were good with their hands, etc.

57 Have you ever...?

Intermediate

This is an activity for groups of 5–8 students.

Grammar points

Asking set questions (Present perfect); Speculating; Making statements using All of us..., Most of us..., Only a few of us..., None of us..., etc.

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of 5–8 students. Give each student a copy of the handout on page 108.
- 2 Working alone, they try to guess how many people in the group have done the various things. They write the number down in the column How many?
- 3 They now work as a group and take it in turns to ask each other questions to find out the exact number who have done each activity. They write this number down in the column Correct.
- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 5 They now fill in the missing words All of us, Some of us, etc. in front of each statement, based on their results.
- 7 As a follow-up, go through the twenty statements with the whole class, taking it in turns to ask students from the various groups to read out what they have written.

58 What do you think?

Intermediate/Advanced

This is a teacher-led activity in groups.

Grammar points

General grammar (mainly present simple) especially as used in giving opinions and agreeing and disagreeing with them

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of 6–8 students and give each student a copy of the handout at the top of page 109.
- 2 Read out the sentences on the teacher's sheet at the bottom of page 109 in order. After you have read each one tell the students to give their opinion by writing a key word (in capitals after each statement) in one of the ten boxes on their sheet. If they write the word in box 1 it means they disagree strongly, while if they write it in box 10 it means they agree strongly. Anywhere in-between shows the strength of their agreement or disagreement.
- 3 When you have finished, the students will be left with single words written on their sheets. (Very few of them will remember exactly what these words mean.)
- 4 Ask one group to give you a number between 1 and 15. When they do so, read out that statement again. The people in the groups now show each other where they had placed the word and a short discussion can begin. Encourage them to agree and disagree with each other.
- 5 Set a definite time limit for this discussion and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 6 Carry on with another number chosen by the next group.
- 7 As a follow-up ask each group in turn which statement caused the most discussion.

Giving and receiving instructions activities

The following activities are based on giving and receiving instructions, with a special emphasis on prepositions of place.

59 Can you follow instructions?

Elementary/Intermediate

This activity is strictly for fun! The students are told they only have five minutes to complete a seemingly complicated handout. However, it is all a bluff and if they follow sentence 1 and read through the questions before starting to write anything, they will find out why. But most students take a while before they realize that all they have to do is write their name at the bottom of the page.

Grammar points

Understanding written instructions; Imperative forms as used in giving instructions

Method

- 1 Give everyone a copy of the handout on page 110.
- 2 Read through the instructions emphasising the fact that they only have five minutes in which to complete everything. Make a thing about having pens ready and starting at the same time. Build up the atmosphere so that it feels like a real race against time.
- 3 Shout Start! at which signal everyone begins.
- 4 Depending on the group, you may or may not need to shout Time's up! If you do, draw their attention to the first and last sentences (and hope you don't get lynched!)
- 5 You can, if you wish, do it as a real exercise, in which case all you have to do is cross out the word 'just' in the last sentence. (The students could even work in pairs.)

60 Complete the drawing

Intermediate

In this activity the students work in pairs. Student A has a complete drawing while Student B's drawing is incomplete. Student A helps B to complete his/her drawing.

Grammar points

Giving instructions (imperatives); Prepositions of place

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the handouts for Student A and Student B on page 111.
- 2 Divide the class into pairs – A and B. Give each student a copy of the appropriate handout.
- 3 Explain what is to be done and allow time for preparation. Make sure Student A keeps his/her drawing hidden from Student B. Also remind him/her that (s)he is not allowed to point to or touch Student B's drawing.
- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.

61 Up, down, left, right 1*Elementary*

In this activity one student dictates instructions to another.

Grammar points

Giving set instructions (imperative); Prepositions (in, up, down, left, right, above, below)

Method

As Activity 58, The handouts are on page 112 (Student A) and on page 113 (Student B).

When they check at the end, remind Student B to hide the bottom part of his/her handout. The roles are now reversed, with Student B now giving Student A instructions.

This is a slightly more difficult version of the previous activity.

Grammar points

Giving set instructions (imperative); Prepositions (in, up, down, left, right, above, below)

Method

As Activity 58. The handouts are on page 114 and the top of page 115 (Student A) and at the bottom of page 115 (Student B).

63 Taking a group photograph*Intermediate/Advanced*

In this activity for groups of six students, one person tries to arrange the others for a photograph.

Grammar points

Giving instructions (imperative); Prepositions

Method

- 1 Divide the class into groups of 6. Choose one student as the photographer and give him/her a copy of photo 1 on page 116.
- 2 Explain what is to be done and allocate space for each group. Set a definite time-limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 3 The teacher can act as a judge at the end and decide which group is closest to the original. Award points, if you wish.
- 4 When they have done it once, a new photographer can be chosen and the activity is repeated, this time using photo 2 on page 116.

NOTE: A polaroid camera would be ideal for this activity, or why not video it?

64 Arrange the furniture 1*Intermediate*

This is an activity for groups of four. It needs more preparation than usual and it is a good idea, if possible, for everything to be mounted on card.

Grammar points

Giving instructions (imperatives); Prepositions of place

Method

- 1 Make one copy of the handout on page 117 which contains the finished layout. Make one copy per group of the handout of the blank room on page 118. Also make copies for each group of the key to the furniture at the bottom of page 119. Finally, cut out and mount on card if possible the various items of furniture at the top of page 119 (again one set per group).
- 2 Divide the class into groups of four. Give each group a handout of an empty room, a set of furniture and a key to the various cut out objects (dining table, bookcase, plants, etc.)
- 3 The class work at the same time. The teacher places the master layout on his/her desk, with its back to the class. (You can mount it like a photograph.)
- 4 One person from each group now comes out to the front and is allowed to look at the master layout for 1 minute.
- 5 Then they go back to their groups and without touching anything themselves tell the rest of the group where to place the furniture. (They obviously won't remember everything.)
- 6 Let a few minutes pass, then get the next person in the group out. Again, they look at the master drawing for 1 minute, then go back to their respective groups.
- 7 The activity continues until all four students have been out the front. Finally, one student from each group can come out again for a final look.
- 8 The teacher now goes to each group in turn to see how well they have done. Award them a mark out of 10.

NOTE: Another way of using the cards is for one group to arrange the furniture and then try to get the other group to arrange theirs in the same way, by telling them where to put things.

65 Arrange the furniture 2*Intermediate/Advanced*

This is a variation of the previous activity for groups of six students.

Grammar points

Making statements using the present simple + prepositions of place; Imperatives

Method

- 1 Use the same handouts in Activity 64, namely the empty room plan, furniture cutouts and furniture key. In addition, copy the group cards on page 121 (one set per group).
- 2 Divide the class into groups of six students. Give each group one copy of the room plan, furniture cutouts and key and each student in the group one of the six group cards.
- 3 Explain that they can read out what is on their group cards but that they are not allowed to write anything down or show their cards to anyone else. Working together, they try to furnish the room according to the information on their group cards.
- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 5 The teacher now goes to each group and sees how well they have done by checking their final arrangement with the one on page 120. Again each group can be awarded a mark out of 10.

66 The adverb game*Intermediate*

This is a whole class activity.

Grammar points

Adverbs of manner; Making statements with going to + verb + adverb of manner

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the adverb cards on page 122 and the activity cards on page 123.
- 2 Divide the class into two teams – A and B. Place the adverb cards and the activity cards face down on a table in front of the class.
- 3 Team A begins. One person comes out the front, turns over the top activity card, plus the top adverb card, e.g.
play the piano angrily
- 4 This person now says to the class:
I am going to play the piano angrily.
(S)he now mimes the activity for a few minutes, after which the teacher gives him/her a mark out of ten for the performance.
- 5 Someone from team B now comes out the front and the next two cards are turned over. The game proceeds as before.
- 6 The team with the highest score at the end are declared winners.

NOTE: A variation would be for the students to mime the activity and his/her team to guess (a) the activity and (b) how (s)he is doing it, gaining 2 points for guessing the activity and 5 points for guessing the adverb. If the first team guess wrongly, the other team can try and guess and gain bonus points.

67 Trace the route*Intermediate*

In this activity the students work in pairs. Student A helps Student B trace a route on a map.

Grammar points

Giving instructions (imperatives); Prepositions of place

Method

- 1 Copy the handouts on page 124 (Student A) and on page 125 (Student B).
- 2 Divide the class into pairs – A and B. Give each student a copy of the appropriate handout.
- 3 Explain what is to be done and allow time for preparation. Make sure Student A keeps his/her drawing hidden from Student B. Also remind him/her that (s)he is not allowed to point to or touch Student B's drawing.
- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.

68 The audition*Advanced*

This activity is a role play for pairs based on someone auditioning for a part in a television commercial.

Grammar points

Giving instructions (imperatives); Polite requests (Would you...? Do you think you could...? etc.)

Method

As Activity 67, but one person is the producer and the other the actor/actress. The actor/actress will need a pen to make notes on his/her script. The producer's script is on page 126 and the actor/actress's script is on page 127.
As a follow-up, one or two pairs could be asked to 'perform' in front of the class.

Board and card games, etc.

The following activities are based on board games or cards of one sort or another. They should be mounted on card, if possible, so that they can be re-used.

69 20-square 1: Make up a sentence

Intermediate/Advanced

This and the following two activities are based on a board containing 20 squares and are intended for students working in groups.

Grammar points

Making statements using the past tense of irregular verbs

Method

- 1 Copy the handout on page 129. Make sure there are enough copies for each group. In addition, copy, cut out and shuffle the number cards 1–20 on page 128. Again, there should be one set of number cards per group.
- 2 Divide the class into groups. Give each group the 20-square handout plus a set of number cards. They sit facing each other round a table. The number cards are placed face down on the table next to the handout.
- 3 Explain that one person picks up a number card, e.g. Number 7 and looks at the verb in that square, in this case the verb fly. (S)he must now make up a sentence using this verb in the past tense, e.g.

Last summer I flew to Spain.

The rest of the group decide whether they will accept the sentence or not. If they do, the verb is crossed out and the student's name is written in this box. Play now continues with the next person.

- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not. The student with the highest number of 'squares' wins.

NOTE: The reason for using the number cards is that it creates a certain amount of suspense – no one knows which square is going to be next. This usually results in heightened attention.

70 20-square 2: What do you remember?

Intermediate/Advanced

In this activity students have to talk about various things they remember from the past.

Grammar points

General grammar used when talking about the past, predominantly the past simple tense

Method

As Activity 69, but this time they have to tell the rest of the group about the particular item in the square. Encourage the rest of the group to ask further questions to get the person to speak more. The handout to be copied is on page 130.

71 20-square 3: Complete the sentences

Intermediate/Advanced

In this activity students have to complete unfinished sentences.

Grammar points

Completing sentences (various structures)

Method

As Activity 69, but this time they have to think up a suitable ending to a sentence. The handout to be copied is on page 131.

72 Four-in-a-Row: Verbs

Elementary

This activity is for groups of three and tests the students' knowledge of irregular verbs. It is based loosely on the game Noughts and Crosses.

Grammar points

Irregular verbs (3 forms)

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the handout on page 132 and the key at the top of page 134.
- 2 Divide the class into groups of three. Two in the group will compete against one another while the third person will be the referee. Give each group a copy of the handout and give a copy of the key to the referee.
- 3 Explain what is to be done, namely that students take it in turns to choose a square and then give the three parts of the verb in that square, e.g. for square 23:

freeze froze frozen

The referee checks and then tells the student whether (s)he is right or wrong. If right, (s)he crosses out the verb and writes his/her name in the square. Play now continues with the next person choosing a square and giving the three parts of that verb.

- 4 Play continues until one student gets a row of four squares – either vertically, diagonally or horizontally.
- 5 They can now try again with a new copy of the handout and with someone else being referee.

73 Four-in-a-Row: Prepositions (after adjectives/verbs)

Intermediate/Advanced

This is the same as the previous activity but this time it tests the students' knowledge of prepositions after adjectives and verbs.

Grammar points

Making statements using adjectives and verbs followed by certain prepositions

Method

As Activity 72. The handout is on page 133 and the key for the referee is at the bottom of page 134. This time the student has to add the correct preposition to the verb or the adjective in the square. The referee checks whether the preposition is correct or not.

NOTE: For advanced groups they could be asked to put the word in the square in a sentence together with the correct preposition.

74 The preposition game

Intermediate

This is a board game for groups of four based on various prepositions..

Grammar points

Various prepositions

Method

- 1 Copy and mount on card, if possible, the board on page 135. Make sure there is one copy for each group. Also copy and cut up the four preposition cards on page 136.
- 2 Divide the class into groups of four. Give each group a copy of the board plus one of the preposition cards. You will also need enough dice for each group and a counter for each player. Allow time for the students to work out which prepositions are missing from the sentences on their cards. But they must not write anything at this stage!
- 3 Each player starts in one of the Start here squares. (S)he must also end in this square.
- 4 One student begins. (S)he throws the dice then moves his/her counter. In the same throw you are allowed to move in any direction – up, down, left, right or diagonally. You can also combine movements, e.g. if you threw a 6 you could move up 2 squares, left 2 squares then diagonally left 2 squares.
- 5 Whatever square you land on, you can use that preposition to fill in one of the gaps in your preposition card.

- 6 The first student to fill in all the gaps and return to his/her home square (they needn't throw an exact number) wins.
- 7 The teacher can be called in to check the winning card.

75 Ask and tell game

Intermediate/Advanced

This is a board game for groups of 4–5 students.

Grammar points

General grammar (making statements, asking questions)

Method

- 1 Copy and mount on card, if possible, the board on page 137. Make sure there is one copy for each group. Also copy, cut out and shuffle the Ask cards on page 138 and the Tell cards on page 139.
- 2 Divide the class into groups of 4–5 students. Give each group a copy of the board plus a set of Tell cards and Ask cards. These are placed face down on the table next to the board. You will also need dice plus a counter for each player.
- 3 Each player starts in the square marked START. One student begins. (S)he throws the dice then moves his/her counter the appropriate number of squares. If (s)he lands on an Ask square (s)he picks up an Ask card and asks someone else in the group that particular question. If, on the other hand, (s)he lands on a Tell square, then (s)he must tell the others about the particular item on the card.
- 4 Play goes on in this manner until one or more people land in the END square at the top of the board.

76 Preposition dominoes

Intermediate/Advanced

This is a group activity based on matching verbs/adjectives to the correct preposition.

Grammar points

Various prepositions after verbs and adjectives

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the 75 cards on page 140,
- 2 Divide the class into groups and each group into two teams – A and B. Give each group a set of cards. Each team gets 37 cards which are placed face down in front of each group. The remaining card is now placed face up in the middle of the table. Let us assume it is the adjective angry.
- 3 Team A begins. They turn up their top card. It can either be a verb, adjective or preposition. Let us imagine they turned up the verb dream. They place it next to the word already on the table.

- 4 If it is a word that will go with angry, namely the preposition with or at they make up a sentence using their word and group A's word. If accepted, they keep both cards. These are placed to one side. If, as in this case, they turn up a word that doesn't go with angry then play moves on to Group B who turn over their top card, e.g. of and place it on the table. They see if they can associate any of the words on the table so far. Since you can say dream of someone/something they now say what the match is and, with more advanced groups, make up a sentence containing these words. Again, the cards are removed from the table. Play continues in this way.
- 5 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 5 The team with the highest number of cards at the end wins.

NOTE: A variation would be to use the cards to play a game of Memory where pairs of cards are turned up until a match is found.

77 What a question

Intermediate/Advanced

This is an activity for groups of up to eight students

Grammar points

Speculating (conditionals)

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the question cards on page 141 (one set per group).
- 2 Divide the class into groups and give each group a set of question cards. These are placed face down in the middle of the group.
- 3 One student starts by turning up the top card, reading it out to the group then saying what (s)he would do. After this, others can say what they would do and a discussion can ensue.
- 4 The next student now picks up a card, reads it out, etc. The activity continues in this way
- 5 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 6 As a follow-up ask each group in turn which question card gave rise to most discussion.

Acknowledgement: The questions are adapted from those in The Book of Questions by Gregory Stock, Ph.D., published by Equation, an imprint of the Thorsens Publishing Group Limited, 1987

Teacher-led activities

In the previous activities in this book the teacher's job has been largely to organise, set up and close an activity, with the students working for most of the time on their own, in pairs or groups. In the following activities, however, the teacher has a more central role but, as before, the students work mainly in pairs or small groups.

78 Countable and uncountable nouns 1

Elementary/Intermediate

This is an activity for the whole class.

Grammar points

Countable and uncountable nouns

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the nouns on page 142.
 - 2 Divide the class into groups. Tell each group that they will need a piece of paper to write down their answers. Tell them to have two columns with the following headings:
- | | |
|------------------|--------------------|
| COUNTABLE | UNCOUNTABLE |
|------------------|--------------------|
- 3 Put the pile of cards face down in front of you. Either read them out one at a time or write them on the board. The groups now decide under which column to place the words.
 - 4 Continue until all the words have gone.
 - 5 Check orally.

79 Countable and uncountable nouns 2

Intermediate/Advanced

This is a more advanced version of Activity 78.

Grammar points

Countable and uncountable nouns

Method

As Activity 78. The nouns to be copied and cut out are on page 143.

80 Complete the story 1

Intermediate/Advanced

In this activity the teacher reads out a story with gaps which the students, working in pairs or groups, try to fill in. All the missing words are verbs.

Grammar points

Past simple of regular and irregular verbs

Method

- 1 Divide the class into pairs or groups of three. Give each pair/group a copy of the handout on page 144.
- 2 Explain that you are going to read out a story in which twenty-eight verbs are missing. Tell the students that the verbs are the ones on their handout.
- 3 Read out the story on page 145, pausing after each gap to allow the students to write in their answers.
- 4 Check orally.

Acknowledgements: This story is adapted from That's Life, published by Treasure Press, 1989.

81 Complete the story 2

Intermediate/Advanced

This is similar to Activity 80, but this time all sorts of words have been left out of the story.

Grammar points

Filling in missing words in a story (nouns, verbs, prepositions, etc.)

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the words on page 146. The first 30 (from quarrelling to fall) are the words that are missing from the story, while the remaining words are distractors.
- 2 Divide the class into pairs. Divide the words among the pairs. Make sure each pair has at least one correct word and one distractor.
- 3 Read out the story on page 147. Pause before each gap and ask for the missing word. The student(s) who thinks (s)he has the missing word, holds it up and says it out loud. If correct, continue with the story. If not, invite other pairs to guess. Further help can be given, if necessary, e.g. It's a verb. It starts with the letter q.
- 4 Continue until all the words have been filled in.
- 5 As a follow-up, get the students to reconstruct the story again orally from scratch.

Acknowledgement: This story is taken from Aesop's Fables retold by Graeme Kent, published by Brimax Books Ltd, Newmarket, 1991.

82 Make up a story

Intermediate/Advanced

This is an activity for the whole class. Before starting, divide the class into four groups, A–D. One person in each group will keep the score.

Grammar points

Forming correct sentences (mainly past tense)

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the cards (words) on page 148. Place them face down in a pile on the table in front of you.
- 2 Take the top three cards and write them on the board, e.g.

dog yesterday police

Explain that the aim of the activity is to make up a story, working together as a class.

- 3 Group A begins. One person starts the story. It can be about anything, but the person (assisted by the group, if necessary) must keep talking until (s)he can use one or more of the words on the board. Once (s)he has, (s)he says Pass and the next group continues. Every word used scores 1 point, so in any one turn a group can gain between one and three points. Using the above words, the person might say, for example,

I was walking home from school yesterday when I saw a strange dog. Pass. (2 points scored.)

- 4 Play now passes to Group B. Before they start, wipe out any words used and take new ones from the pack and write these on the board, e.g.

plumber angrily

NOTE: There should always be three words on the board at any one time..

- 5 Try to repeat the last sentence (or occasionally summarize the story) as you move from group to group, so the main idea of the story is kept alive.
- 6 The group with the highest score at the end wins.

NOTE: As a variation, the teacher could select at random 12 words, write them on the board and then get the students, working in pairs or small groups, to write a story around these words. Each pair or group can then read out their story.

83 Making comparisons/Finding similarities and differences

Intermediate

This is a game for groups of 3–4 students.

Grammar points

Making comparisons using Both...and, Neither...nor; Comparatives

Method

- 1 Divide the class into four groups, A–D.
- 2 Copy set 1 words on page 149 on to the board. Tell the students they have to think of as many things as possible that pairs of words have in common. Give an example, e.g.

Both a guitar and a violin have strings.

You blow both a trumpet and a flute. etc.

Now ask Group A for a suggestion. If correct they get 1 point and play moves on to Group B. Continue with similarities until no one can think of any more. (If a group can't think of anything they say Pass and play moves on to the next group.)

- 3 Now ask them to suggest as many differences as possible between pairs of words, e.g.

A trumpet is lower than a flute.

You play a violin with a bow but a guitar with a plectrum. etc.

Continue as before until no one can think of any more differences.

- 4 Rub these words out and replace them with another set of words.
- 5 Continue in this manner until you have gone through all ten sets (or a selection of them).
- 6 The team with the highest score are the winners.

Acknowledgement: This is based on an idea in Grammar Practise Activities by Penny Ur, published by Cambridge University Press, 1988.

84 Give an answer 1

Intermediate

This is a written activity for pairs.

Grammar points

Writing sentences (various tenses)

Method

- 1 Divide the class into pairs and give each pair a copy of the handout at the top of page 150.
- 2 Explain that you are going to read out ten questions and that they have to think up answers that start with the word Yes or No. But they also have to give some extra information. Demonstrate, by writing the following on the board.

Are you English?

*Yes, I am. I was born in London./But my father is Italian.
No, I'm not. I come from India./But I learnt to speak English at school.*

- 3 Read out the questions on the Teacher's sheet at the top of page 151. Allow time after each one for the students to write down their answers. Remind them that they answer Yes or No but then they must write another sentence with some extra piece of information based on the question.
- 4 When you have finished, check orally. (Take two or three answers for each question.)

85 Give an answer 2

Intermediate/Advanced

This is similar to the previous activity, but this time instead of questions, the teacher reads out a series of statements.

Grammar points

Writing sentences (various tenses)

Method

As Activity 84. The students' handout is at the bottom page 150 and the Teacher's sheet is at the bottom of page 151. Before starting again demonstrate by showing that this time they have to answer using It's because... or That's because..., e.g.

You sing well.

It's because my mother was an opera singer.

OR That's because I've been having singing lessons for nearly two years. etc.

86 The memory game 1

Intermediate

This is a game for pairs.

Grammar points

Answering WH-questions based on a drawing (past simple)

Method

- 1 Divide the class into pairs. Give each pair a copy of the handout on page 152 and tell them they have five minutes to look at it, trying to remember as much as possible. But they are not allowed to write anything down.
- 3 Stop them and tell them to turn over their drawings (or collect them). Each pair now writes the numbers 1-15 on a separate piece of paper.
- 4 Read out the questions on the Teacher's sheet at the top of page 154. Allow time for the students to write down their answers.
- 5 Check orally. If necessary, they can mark each other's papers. Let them see the drawing again after you have checked.

Key (Suggestion)

1 11:35/23:35/twenty-five to twelve 2 Two 3 No. It was a seascape/a painting of a boat, etc. 4 No 5 A candle/candlestick and a photograph 6 One 7 Yes 8 A vase of flowers and an ashtray ... a newspaper/magazine 9 Behind it 10 Yes 11 Closed 12 No 13 A stereo/record player/CD player, etc. 14 A dog, a cat and a budgie/budgerigar/bird 15 No

87 The memory game 2*Intermediate/Advanced*

This is another, slightly more difficult, version of the previous activity based on text items rather than a drawing.

Grammar points

Answering WH-questions based on facts (various tenses)

Method

As Activity 86, but this time the students have to try to remember factual, textual information. You can allow up to ten minutes this time. The students' handout is on page 153 and the Teacher's sheet is at the bottom of page 154.

Key (Suggestion)

1 Your phone calls will be free from then on. 2 You might kill yourself. 3 To see how well they can forge notes. 4 Her watch. Her husband. It was inside a fish he had caught. 5 In US dollar bills. 6 By grabbing its front legs and quickly pulling them apart. 7 Guess exactly how much money (s)he is carrying. 8 By putting them in the freezer overnight. 9 Its eyes pop out. 10 People die and travel around for days. 11 Because they have invented a car that runs on water. 12 They make you look slimmer.

Grammar points

Phrasal verbs (various)

Method

- 1 Copy the handout on page 155 and give each pair/group a copy.
- 2 Read out the sentences on page 156. Allow a minute or so after each one for the students to write down their answers.
- 3 Check orally.

89 Explain yourself*Intermediate*

This is a game for small groups.

Grammar points

Giving excuses/reasons; Past simple; Clauses using because; Asking WH-questions

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the 13 sentences on page 157.
- 2 Divide the class into small groups.
- 3 Give a situation to each group. Tell them they now have 5 minutes to come up with a suitable explanation
- 4 One person from each group gives an explanation. The rest of the class now decide whether to accept it or not. Encourage the rest of the class to interrupt and cross-examine the person talking.

Miscellaneous activities

The remaining activities in the book consist of various handouts, many of which concentrate on writing in one form or another.

90 Complete the sentences 1*Elementary/Intermediate*

In this activity the students complete sentences using their own words.

Grammar points

Finishing sentences (mainly present simple)

Method

- 1 Give each student a copy of the handout on page 158.
- 2 Each student, working alone, completes the sentences. Tell them that they needn't complete any sentences they find too personal.
- 3 Set a time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 They now get together with 2-3 other students in the class and compare their answers. You can demonstrate with a student, e.g. My least favourite animals are snakes and crocodiles. What about you? What are your least favourite animals? etc.

Grammar points

Word order

Method

96 Right or wrong 1

Elementary

This is a betting game for pairs or small groups based on deciding whether sentences are grammatically correct or not. Although many teachers are strongly opposed to showing students incorrect sentences, believing students will 'pick up' these mistakes, I have never found it to be the case in twenty years of teaching – especially when the students are told in advance that a sentence may be incorrect.

Grammar points

Deciding whether a sentence is grammatically correct or not (various tenses and structures)

Method

- 1 Copy the handout on page 163 and give a copy to each pair/group.
- 2 Explain the rules, namely that for each sentence they put a tick in the right or wrong box and then bet 10–100 points on their answer being correct. They write the number of points in the Bet column.
- 3 Set a time limit and check orally. To avoid cheating, let the students mark one another's handouts.
- 4 Each answer will either be correct or incorrect. If correct, they gain the number of points they have bet. If incorrect, they lose the number of points they have bet. Students copy the amount under Bet to the Loss or Gain column.
- 5 At the end, they add up the total losses and gains to arrive at a grand total, which is gains minus losses.
- 6 The pair/group with the highest score wins.

Key

The following sentences are wrong:

2 (is photography), 3 (her hair cut), 4 (was born), 7 (very well), 8 (tallest), 10 (There are), 12 (borrow), 14 (likes) 15 (How much money)

103 Rank order 1

Intermediate

In this and the following two activities, students have to rank things in order of importance, working first alone, then in pairs and finally in groups.

Grammar points

Ranking items on a scale; Use of comparatives when discussing the order of items

Method

- 1 Give each student a copy of the handout on page 171.
- 2 Tell each student to choose twelve items from the list that they are most afraid of. There is no need to rank them at this stage. They simply put a tick or a cross in the boxes marked You. Set a time limit
- 3 Now everyone works in pairs. Working together, they choose ten items from the items they have both chosen. (They may need to compromise.) They mark these in the boxes marked Pairs. Again, set a time limit.
- 4 Finally, they work in groups of 3–4. This time, from their list of eight, they choose six items, but this time they try to rank them in order, with 1 being the item they are most afraid of. They mark these in the boxes marked Group. Set a time limit as usual.
- 5 As a follow-up, ask one person from each group to list their choices. (You could even write them up on the board, to see if people share the same fears.)

22 JIGSAW READING 2: SORT OUT THE TWO JOKES

Joke 1

Two old men who lived in a village deep in the country decided one day to take a trip to London. This meant they had to leave their village, get on a bus to the nearest town, and there catch the train for London. It was all a big adventure for them, as they had never done anything like it before. To eat on the journey, they had bought some bananas. They'd never eaten bananas before either.

They got on the train and were marvelling at the speed. One man decided to try his banana, but just as he was taking a bite the train entered a tunnel.

'Have you eaten your banana yet?' he called out to his friend.

'No,' replied his friend.

'Well, don't' said the first man. 'I took one bite of mine and went blind.'

22 JIGSAW READING 2: SORT OUT THE TWO JOKES (continued)

Joke 2

A motorist driving through the country stopped for a hitch-hiker who was holding the halter of a cow.
'I can give you a lift,' he said, 'but I can't take your cow.'
'Don't worry,' said the hitch-hiker, 'she'll follow us in her own time.'
So the hitch-hiker got in and the motorist started up. He drove at thirty miles an hour and the cow trotted along behind him. He drove at forty miles an hour and the cow was still trotting along behind him. He drove at fifty miles an hour yet the cow was somehow managing to keep pace with him.
But he noticed in his mirror that the cow seemed to be tiring, as her tongue was hanging out of her mouth. 'I'm worried about your cow,' said the motorist to his passenger, 'her tongue is hanging out of her mouth to the right.'
'Oh, that's all right,' said the hitch-hiker, 'that means she's going to overtake!'

29 ASKING AND ANSWERING QUESTIONS ABOUT PHOTOGRAPHS

© Penguin Books 1995

Student A

Imagine you took the above photographs. Describe them to your partner, for example, what the occasion was, who the people were, etc. Your partner will probably ask you questions, so be prepared to use your imagination.

You can start by asking your partner:

Would you like to see some photographs?

Student B

Your partner is going to show you some photographs. Get him/her to talk about them as much as you can – especially about the people in them – by asking lots of questions, e.g. Who are these people? Who's this woman here on the right? What's this man's name? What's he doing? What's that building behind them? etc.

Student A

Imagine that one of the above photographs is of the first person you were ever really in love with. Your partner is a close friend of yours. You are going to tell him/her about this person. Before you start, think of the following:

- his/her name
- how old you were when you first met him/her and where you met
- how long you went out together
- what he/she was like
- what sort of things you used to do together
- if you hoped to marry him/her
- why you split up

Your partner will probably ask you lots of questions, so be prepared to use your imagination. You can start by saying:

Would you like to see a photo of the boy/girl I first fell in love with?

© Penguin Books 1995

Student B

Your partner is a close friend of yours. He/she is going to show you a photograph of his/her first 'real' love. Find out as much as you can about this person by asking questions.

For example, try to find out:

- his/her name
- how your friend met him/her and where they met
- if it was love at first sight
- how long they went out together
- what sort of a person he/she was
- if your friend's parents liked him/her
- why they split up
- if your friend has seen him/her since
- if this person is now married

Try to think of at least fifteen questions to ask before you start.

The Life History of Andrew Scott

Andrew Scott was born in Brighton on 9th June, 1955. His father was a policeman and his mother was a tax inspector. He started school when he was five and left school when he was sixteen. In August 1972 he started work at a post office in the centre of Brighton. He stayed there for five years. Then in September 1978 he moved to London. He got a new job at a travel agency not far from Buckingham Palace.

Six months later he met Julie Parker at a party. They fell in love and got married on 26th April, 1979. Julie was an actress and when she got the chance to work in America, Andrew gave up his job and went with her. They stayed in America for eleven years altogether. During this time, Julie made ten films and was the star of a television series called Two People.

Andrew started writing books and in June 1982 his first book, Brighton Sand, was published. It sold nearly a million copies. A year later, their first child was born. The Life History of Andrew Scott

Andrew Scott was born in Brighton on 19th July, 1955. His father was a policeman and his mother was an estate agent. He started school when he was five and left school when he was sixteen. In August 1972 he started work at a bank in the centre of Brighton. He stayed there for five years. Then in September 1978 he moved to London. He got a new job at a travel agency not far from Trafalgar Square.

Six months later he met Julie Parker while he was on holiday. They fell in love and got married on 26th April, 1980. Julie was an actress and when she got the chance to work in America, Andrew gave up his job and went with her. They stayed in America for eleven years altogether. During this time, Julie made ten films and was the star of a television series called Chicago.

Andrew started writing books and in June 1982 his second book, Brighton Sand, was published. It sold over a million copies. A year later, their first child was born. They called him David after Andrew's father. They had two more children while they were in America – Emily, who was born in 1985 and Simon who was born in 1987.

In March 1991 they moved back to Britain. They lived in York at first, then two years ago they bought a very big house near Brighton. This is where they now live.

Your partner doesn't need to write these down.)

When you have finished, compare your drawings.

When you have finished, compare maps.

68 THE AUDITION

Producer

Imagine you are a producer of TV commercials. You are soon going to be making a commercial for cat food. The script is ready, you just need to find an actor/actress now. Your partner is an actor/actress who has applied for the part in the commercial. He/she has been sent a script of the words to say. Get him/her to run through the script, using the notes you have made on the following storyboard to give him/her exact instructions as to how you want everything done.

Get person to mime opening a tin of cat food...

Mime walking to the door and opening it.

...and then to turn to face the camera before starting to speak.

(Look straight into the camera.)

(Shouting)

Mimi! Suzie!
Captain Silver!
Hamlet! Agatha!

As a champion cat breeder, I know what my cats need to make them strong and healthy, (slight pause here) to make them champions.

Mime following the cats' movements as they rush through the door and crowd around the bowls of food.

Mime holding up the tin of CLAWS.

And so I always give them CLAWS - the cat food with delicious meaty chunks of liver.

Then turn to face the camera again.

See what I mean!

Mime emptying the tin into 3 bowls on the floor.

VOICE

My cats just love it!

Mime holding up the tin of CLAWS again.

VOICE

So take my advice and give your cats CLAWS. It will make champions out of them!

Give a big smile and hold it for as long as possible.

68 THE AUDITION

Actor/actress

Imagine you are an actor/actress who has applied for a part in a TV commercial about cat food. You have been sent the following script and are about to be auditioned by the producer (your partner). Try to do what he/she says.

Script for CLAWS cat food commercial

As a champion cat breeder, I know what my cats need to make them strong and healthy, to make them champions.

And so I always give them CLAWS – the cat food with delicious meaty chunks of liver.

80 COMPLETE THE STORY 1 (Teacher's sheet)

Read out the following story, leaving gaps for the students to fill in.

The Longest Day

This story happened a few years ago when British people could go on a day trip to France without a passport. It is about a Mr and Mrs Elham who went on a day trip to Boulogne.

When they (1...had finished...) their shopping, the couple (2...set out...) for a stroll to see the sights of the town. Unfortunately, they didn't (3...know...) much French and couldn't really (4...understand...) the street signs, so they (5...became...) completely lost. The French people they (6...met...) were very kind and eventually they (7...got...) a lift to the railway station.

As the last ferry (8...had left...), the Elhams (9...decided...) to go to Paris and (10...make...) their way back to Dover from there. Unfortunately, they (11...caught...) the wrong train and (12...found...) themselves the next morning – in Luxembourg! The local police (13...put...) the confused passengers on a train for Paris and they (14...slept...) most of the way – all too soundly in fact, for they (15...missed...) their connection and (16...woke up...) in Basel in Switzerland!

The obliging Swiss police (17...gave...) the couple directions back to Boulogne but somehow they (18...lost...) their way again and ended up (19...hitchhiking...) over sixty kilometres to Vesoul in central France. A long-distance lorry driver gave the confused couple a lift to Paris, but when they (20...reached...) the Gare du Nord, their troubles were not over.

'We (21...misread...) the signs,' Mrs Elham (22...explained...), 'and took the train to Bonn in Germany.'

From Germany the Elhams (23...were sent...) quickly back to France. At the border, a sympathetic gendarme decided to (24...make sure...) they got to Boulogne safely, so he (25...drove...) them all the way there.

As they didn't have passports, it took twenty-four hours to (26...persuade...) the Customs that their unlikely tale (27...could...) possibly be true. But at last they were allowed on a ferry and soon the familiar white cliffs of Dover (28...welcomed...) the Elhams back to England.

81 COMPLETE THE STORY 2 (Teacher's sheet)

Read out the following story, leaving gaps.

A man and his sons

Once there was a man who had five sons. Instead of living together calmly and quietly, these sons were always (...quarrelling...) among themselves.

Their father (...grew tired...) of their constant quarrelling. He made up his mind to show them (...how...) silly they were.

He picked five sticks, (...each...) the same length, (...from...) the woodpile. Then he tied them together (...into...) a bundle. When this (...was done...), he called his five sons to him. At first they did not hear him (...because...) they were too busy arguing, but (...in the end...) they came.

'Listen to me!' (...shouted...) their father. 'Take this bundle of sticks and (...break...) it over your knee.'

'I can do that (...easily...),' said the eldest son.

He took the bundle and pulled it (...against...) his knee with all his force. (...No matter...) how hard he tried, he could not break the five sticks in the bundle.

'It can't (...be done...),' he growled at last.

'Of course it can,' shouted his brothers. They all began arguing as to which of them (...should be...) the one to break the bundle. In the end they all tried in turn. (...Although...) their knees became sore, the bundle of sticks (...remained...) unbroken.

'Now let me (...show...) you how it can be done,' said their father.

He took the bundle of sticks from the others and (...untied...) the rope which held them together. Then he (...handed...) one stick to each of his five sons.

'Now, each of you break the stick in your hands,' he ordered.

The sons did as they (...were told...). Each stick cracked easily, like pieces of matchwood.

'What do you make of that?' their father asked them.

His sons looked puzzled. They (...shrugged...) their shoulders and made no answer. Their father sighed (...loudly...).

'Don't you see?' he explained (...patiently...). 'When a man stands alone, he can (...be broken...) as easily as one of those sticks. But when a man stands united with others nothing can break him.'

Only then did his sons (...understand...) what their father (...had been trying...) to tell them, and they were all ashamed of (...themselves...).

And the moral of the story is: United we stand, divided we (...fall...).

86 THE MEMORY GAME 1

Look at this drawing for five minutes. You are not allowed to write anything down.

When your teacher tells you to stop, turn your drawing over, then write down the answers to the questions you will be asked on a separate piece of paper. Number them 1–15.

87 THE MEMORY GAME 2

The following facts are all completely untrue, but are often thought to be true or have appeared in newspapers as true stories. They are known as urban myths. Read through them for five minutes. You are not allowed to write anything down.

- If a large vicious dog attacks you, the best way to avoid being badly bitten is to grab its front legs and quickly pull them apart sideways, killing the dog instantly.
- If you pick a hamster up by the tail, its eyes pop out.
- A woman once lost her watch on a Devon beach. Years later, her husband caught a fish in the same spot and it had her watch inside – still keeping perfect time.
- Scientists have invented a car that runs on water, but all the world's oil companies have got together, paid off the scientists involved, and are keeping the invention secret.
- It is quite common for dead passengers to travel around undisturbed for days on the Tokyo metro – even sometimes standing up.
- The Bank of England has to buy every new model of photocopier, fax or laser printer to see how well they can forge notes.
- You can fully recharge phone cards by putting them in the freezer overnight.
- The ink for US dollar bills comes from crushed butterfly wings.
- An ancient British law, still valid but little used, states that if you stop someone in the street and can correctly guess how much money they have in their pocket, you can keep it.
- Shop mirrors are trick ones that make you look slimmer.
- There's a special number you can dial on your telephone that will make all your calls free from then on. When people are caught doing it, they're charged with another crime and it's all hushed up.
- Dozens of commuters on London Underground kill themselves every year by falling asleep. Apparently, they wake up confused and accidentally walk out of the train door between stations.

When your teacher tells you to stop, turn your paper over. You are now going to be tested. Write your answers on a separate piece of paper. Number them 1–12.

86 THE MEMORY GAME 1 (Teacher's sheet)

Read out the following. Pause between each question to allow the students time to write down their answers.

- 6 How many armchairs were there?
- 7 Was there a rug in front of the fire?
- 8 What was on the coffee table? And under it?
- 9 Was the plant next to or behind the armchair?
- 10 Was the fire alight?
- 11 Was the door open or closed?
- 12 Were there more than ten books on the top shelf of the bookcase?
- 13 What was on the bottom shelf of the bookcase?
- 14 Name any animals in the room.

99 A LIFE HISTORY

Work in pairs or groups of three. Read the following:

Name: Peter Redman

Age: 42

Nationality: British

Family details:

Father: musician

Mother: teacher

2 brothers, 1 sister

Married. 1 child

Brief life history

Peter was born in Liverpool. He left school at 16 and got a job at a local garage. He didn't like this very much so, at the age of 18, he moved to London. There he got a job at a West End theatre. While working there he wrote a play. He showed it to one of the actors who liked it so much that he persuaded a director friend of his to put it on. It was a huge success. After that Peter wrote three more plays – all of them equally successful.

In 1980 he was invited to Hollywood to write the screenplay of one of his first plays. The film was a big hit and he won an Oscar for his screenplay. He decided to move to America to write more screenplays. While there he met and fell in love with the actress Dawn Fairchild. They got married in 1985 and moved to New York. Two years later, their daughter, Katie, was born. While in New York, Peter wrote his first novel which became an international best-seller.

Peter and Dawn are now planning to move back to Britain, possibly somewhere near Liverpool.

102 WHAT'S THE QUESTION? 2

Work in pairs or groups of three. Read the following extract from a newspaper.

Countdown to catastrophe

THIS is the sequence of events leading to the assassination of President Kennedy on November 22, 1963, and the subsequent death of his alleged assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald.

7.15 am: Oswald is spotted carrying a long object, wrapped in paper, when he arrives for work at the Texas School Book Depository in Dallas.

9.30 am-10.30 am: He is seen staring out of a first-floor window which overlooks Dealey Plaza.

11.40 am: A worker at the depository notices Oswald looking out of the window on the sixth floor from where the shots are fired.

12.30 pm: The motorcade turns in to Elm Street directly in front of the depository and shots ring out. In the confusion, Oswald slips out of the building.

12.45 pm: Dallas police issue a description: unknown white male, approximately 30, slender build, height 5ft 10in.

1.15 pm: Patrolman J.D. Tippit sees Oswald on East Street. He pulls over and calls to Oswald. The patrolman is killed by several shots from Oswald's revolver.

1.46 pm: Police announce: 'Have information a suspect just went into the Texas theatre on West Jefferson.' Within minutes six squad cars arrive and police seal the exits. Theatre lights are turned up and Officer M.N. McDonald confronts Oswald who raises his hands and punches him, saying, 'Well, it's all over now'. Oswald takes out his revolver and pulls the trigger but the gun does not fire. He is overpowered and taken into custody.

November 24: Oswald is gunned down in police custody by Jack Ruby, a nightclub owner who thought his act would make him a national hero.
